Browsers offer wonderful functionality but every now and then they take you in a direction which can lead to a dead end, or you just can't find where to go. Fortunately, the advent of extensions and, more specifically, browser add-ins, have opened the way to a whole new world of Web technology. Fortunately, and incredibly fast, the browser extension community has begun to emerge in order to offer up-to-the-minute support to the browser-loving community. So we created Screencastify as an extension to just assist those users who suffer from "browser blindness," and are not able to see and use their browser. Special Features: Screencastify is not a mere screen recorder. It is much more. It is an integrated fully working and professional screen capture and screen recording software, with all the functionalities included. It is a multi-user software with many multi-user modes, fully integrated with your browser. It is an interface which offers a lot of fine control, adjustability, ease of use, and many more unique features which are worth the time to investigate.

Key Features: ✓ List all the active browsers on the system with all the tabs open. ✓ Snap a screenshot of anything on any of the browser tabs, and copy the snapshot easily into an editor for image manipulation and storage. ✓ Record any type of desktop activity using the webcam or your existing video camera. ✓ Customize the recording size, media format, and the video container size, and easily crop out areas you don't want to record. ✓ Save the recording as video, audio only, or only capture the sound. ✓ Export the recorded content to any URL. ✓ Record individual actions, switch back and forth between recorded activities, and much more... ✓ Clean and professional user interface. ✓ A simple and logical interface, with a lot of options and deep settings. ✓ No need to be a coder to create a powerful screen recorder. ✓ Record and edit videos in Google Chrome, Firefox, Safari and Internet Explorer. ✓ The same extension works on all the browsers on your system, as well as on other systems where you have the same browser. Changelog v0.5.5: - Fixed an issue in which the browser's screen recording did not work in some versions of Internet Explorer. - Patched a problem in which you could not select the video from other

Screencastify With Key PC/Windows

Thanks to Screencastify, you don't have to think about the screencast essentials in a daunting way.

All you have to do is tap the record button and start recording. It is that simple! What's more, thanks to the extension, you can add audio to the recording and adjust the video. What's more, you can set the video to be embedded in a web page. Note: before starting the recording process, you should launch it from your computer's toolbar or from the extension's pop-up menu. This is a third-party extension and is not supported by The Wall Street Journal. If you are a reader, with our extended user and service agreements, it includes terms for use of and protection of your data, registered to the user account created when you register. Your use of the WSJ Service constitutes your acceptance of the agreement available on our website at OK, now you're ready. Let's check out the extension's main features! [](The Wall Street Journal) With all of the activity going on in your social media accounts, it's easy to lose track of time. One of the popular ways to track what you do is by having the Wall Street Journal maintain a daily diary. In this extension, you can now have a new enhanced daily diary experience to make this social media accountability process easier and more convenient. Our award-winning extension -- with a community of users who have already put it to good use -- gives you a personalized view of your online activity from your Wall Street Journal Facebook and Twitter accounts. This extension will enhance your daily diary experience so you can see what you were up to on Wall Street Journal accounts in the past day -- and what you can expect to be up to in the future! Current and future activities of the Wall Street Journal accounts you follow, and even of the Wall Street Journal entities, can be viewable under the "For Your Attention" section on the extension's interface -- all in just a single glance. It's a great way to be reminded of what you accomplished, what you need to do next, and even what you can expect in the future! This extension, like the Wall Street Journal, needs to be used on a personal computer. To enhance your Wall Street Journal Daily Diary experience, you have to: Follow Wall Street Journal on your social media account(s) Have the Wall Street Journal Daily Diary "For Your Attention" section enabled in the extension's settings Have the a69d392a70

Auto-export GIFs If you just want to record something, Screencastify is the extension to install!

The free edition is all you need. No adverts, no nag screens. Now let's see what to expect on installation: You just have to click on the green box icon. Access the Screencastify configuration panel after clicking on the green box. After running and reloading the extension, you can use Screencastify: The extension creates a new window showing the recorded file. You can change the default recording mode: If you want to create more than a single video (screencast): You can select the windows or tabs you want to record, after which the recording mode will change to "Multiple windows/tabs." The extension supports Gmail and other messaging apps as well. You can start recording while the extension is already opened on your browser. You don't need to open it first. For your privacy, Screencastify also silently records your tab, the webpage you open, the sites you visit, and other data related to the extensions or browser plugins you have installed. How to uninstall Screencastify? Screencastify offers an efficient uninstall method. The procedure has been made simple, easy to follow, and straightforward. If you want to completely remove Screencastify from your Chrome browser extensions, you can perform the task as follows: Click on the 3-dot menu button on the top right-hand side of your browser window. Select "Tools" and from there, select "Manage extensions" on the left-hand side menu. Scroll down and you will find the "Screencastify" extension in your list of installed extensions. Go to the "Screencastify" drop-down menu on the left-hand side and click on "Uninstall." After that, a confirmation box will pop up. Click on "OK." Now, you need to restart your browser. Hopefully, it has been easy and smooth, using the Screencastify uninstallation
