How can I add links or categories to each one of the options and how can I integrate them so when I selected a option it shows all the links or categories. A: From the look of your question, you are creating a contact form, and what you want to do is create categories for the options available. Categories are a more advanced form of categories, so I don't think you can do that with a simple check box, but rather you will need some code. I would probably suggest a plugin that has categories like wordpress has to offer. Sunday, January 13, 2007 Rhapsody and I went out for a pizza, and then he brought me home for a little while, and then we went out for another pizza to eat after he cleaned up my house (and even tidied up my bedroom). He gave me a massage while I was at his parents' house, and then we went to bed. (My insomnia is over, and I'm so glad!) Then, this morning, a few of us went for a bike ride. We started in the rain, but it slowly cleared as we rode. I got home to see the sun coming out! Rhapsody and I went for a nice long walk in a park (where the snow has melted), and I got to see a pretty creek and a lot of wildlife. Rhapsody and I shared our new quilt. It's warm, a patchwork of my favorite fabrics, and it even has petal feathers on it. (And there's a bit of rhapsody in my hair, too. That's perfume that Rhapsody puts in it before he nuzzles against my neck.) Here's a dragonfly in my hair. We also enjoyed some carrot cake. It was very good! All in all, it was a great weekend! There was lots of snow still on the ground on Sunday, but the roads were clear, and we got to go for lots of fun. And it was definitely a low-carb weekend, I might add.
