FIFA is one of the world's leading sports videogame franchises. FIFA brings authentic football action to life like never before, and EA SPORTS FIFA 22 will be the most authentic football videogame experience to date. Play the match - Be the Legend, Inspire The World FIFA 22 is fuelled by a new approach to player and team emotion - the most realistic and predictive emotion engine ever seen in videogaming. It will ensure all players and teams are in the right emotional state to make the right choices and celebrate their team's goals. This new approach creates a refreshing experience where every match becomes truly memorable, just like a real match, and injects fresh life into a genre that has been stuck in a cycle for too long. EASTH FIFA 22 will be available June 9th on Xbox One, Xbox 360, PlayStation 4 and PC with digital and retail editions. FIFA22 Discussion Official I play and would buy and the game in May if they keep on making it. I bought it for the vuvuzelas "laughing" noise that they make, but that's it. I love the game, but I think there are a lot of things that need to be changed, and not only if compared to fifa 17. Need better handling if the pitch is wet, need to be able to cut off the pitch out of bounds - if a player/team touch the pitch or the goal post out of bounds, it stays in play. Don't have to be on the pitch for the game to start, there needs to be a button to go to that game from the menu. I have the 2012 edition, it's very outdated compared to the last 3 years of development that took place. The 10, and 5 yrd distance are bad, and don't have an instruction manual to know what they do. Voice overs are far, far too low, and don't know if you've already put a player on the field or not. I want to know if I don't want to see a replay, I can't... but why can't I? Remember the setup screen, I need to know how many teams I have, give me at least 5 fields to choose from (please), and there is no option to choose my own national kit color. Also please get rid of the black band across the bottom of the screen that is bc9d6d6daa
