As of March 2017, there are 2,700 Scientology Churches, Missions, and affiliated locations in over 100 countries on six continents. The Church of Scientology was founded in the United States in 1955, by L. Ron Hubbard, an American science fiction author. The founders were all of European descent, and there was a consistent association between Scientology and European culture. In 1953, Hubbard issued the "Hubbard Communications Office Directive", ordering that the religion be taught in all Scientology churches and groups. In 1957, Scientology in England was said to have 80,000 active members. As of 1998, there were around 300 Scientology churches in the United States, and by 2006 this number had increased to over 600. In the five years between 2005 and 2010, these churches grew at a rate of 75-125 percent, with many new churches opening in areas where there had been no Scientology presence previously, and many existing churches expanding their bookstores. Mission structure The Mission structure contains three levels of organization: The Church of Scientology is a religious organization, which is composed of Hubbard-trained individuals. A Scientology church, typically, is owned by a Scientologist, and is led by a Scientology clergyman or

I need to filter out this list from the file. Is there a way to do this? For instance: File1: a a b c d d e File2: a b c d e I only want the strings in File2, so it would read "a", "b", "c" and "d". Is there a quick and easy way to do this in Python? A: A list comprehension is something to watch out for when removing the contents of a file. Consider the following example. with open('in.txt', 'r') as infile: items = [] for line in infile: items.extend(re.findall(r"\b[^\w\s]\b", line.rstrip())) # items now contains all the items
