It is possible the Nexus 7 doesn't support SUPL anymore, I had some issues setting it up when I was using the 2.2.1 firmware as it was not supported by the Nexus 7 then. It was suggested that my device was going to SUPL, there was no way to stop it, so I had to upgrade to 2.2.1 to stop it. Here is another one of those threads which talks about it: Quote: Originally Posted by Ken in Michigan. The Inroads V8i is starting to show its age.
