"Living God" The interaction between Tarnished God and living people is a fascinating phenomenon that has emerged over time. However, society has long forbidden this interaction, and has forcibly sought to suppress the power of Tarnished God. Tarnished God and the living people are mutually informed with each other, and interact through a network. People who bear the divine essence in their body, "The living ones," know that Tarnished God lives in their body as well. After the Elden ascended as the new divine being on Earth, the living ones have the natural right to receive divine power. However, as society has long suppressed divine power, the living ones can receive only the power they can do without. For example, ordinary everyday things such as using the power of a light bulb are not allowed. The world is waiting for the day when divine power can be fully enjoyed by all living people and even the living gods and goddesses. "The World of the Living Ones" The Lands Between The Lands Between is a new world formed after the Elden ascended and the civilization vanished. Travelers, who received the divine essence through Tarnished God, have fled to the Lands Between to escape from society. The Lands Between was created because of the imbalance in the elemental energy inside the Elden Tower, and is the same place where Tarnished God dwells. "The Lands Between" The Lands Between is formed by the Lands Below and the Lands Above, and offers a variety of places that the traveler can encounter. From the Lands Below, which was originally a dark dungeon, ascended beings are usually not accepted. The Lands Above is a place where Tarnished God lives as the main player. The Lands Between is the border between the lands. "The Lands Between" The Lands Below The Lands Below is a place where the traveler encounters exotic, rich, and various creatures such as monsters, demons, and devils. The area is surrounded by the gigantic land called "Lands Above" which is where Tarnished God lives. The Lives Below live in fear of the lands above and have avoided contact with the Lands Above, although some advanced species emerge that can venture into the Lands Above. When such a creature appears, the Lands Below are immediately exposed, as if a mirror to the Lands Above. The rebel forces, the "heathens" ♦

More than 1/2 of students have been expelled and sent to juvie. There is no doubt that most of these students will continue to be bad actors. But there are plenty of young people, who despite a dismal childhood, are smart enough to make good choices. In many cases, these students have their whole lives ahead of them. If we catch them as early as possible, we can do more than just change their track record, we can save a life! 5. KIDS ARE EVIL! If you think this sounds ridiculous, you're not the only one. Many people have voiced their opinions about the implementation of more aggressive tactics. But as an educator, I have to remain steadfast and say that the vast majority of students who are expelled, sent to juvie, or returned to the classroom show improvement. They are trying to be more responsible members of society, while their peers are choosing a life of crime. A large part of my job is to prevent kids from making bad choices in the first place. If we have the best school system in the nation, with plenty of qualified teachers and resources, shouldn't we be able to do that? Wouldn't it be better to go after the career criminal, instead of the student who needs help? Remember, when it comes to dealing with kids, there is always an abundance of opinions. How many "Parenting" books have you seen? In fact, the study of parenting has expanded greatly. Not to mention, there are plenty of parenting programs on TV. I'm not trying to argue that these are great ways to raise a child
