Q: Angular 2 HttpClientProvider: Passing parameters to the interceptor function I have an interceptor with the following structure: @Injectable() export class AuthInterceptor implements HttpInterceptor { constructor(private http: HttpClient) { } intercept(req: HttpRequest, next: HttpHandler): Observable < > { // Some authentication logic here if (badRequestOrFailure) { // Return 401 Unauthorized response return next.handle(new HttpEvent(HttpStatus.UNAUTHORIZED)); } return next.handle(req); } } This interceptor is called at the beginning of all http requests (using interceptors property in the http options object). I am now trying to pass the username, password, or token parameters to the interceptor to make the request. Any idea on how I can pass those parameters? Thanks. A: Try to use params : intercept(req: HttpRequest, next: HttpHandler): Observable < > { if (badRequestOrFailure) { // Return 401 Unauthorized response return next.handle(new HttpEvent(HttpStatus.UNAUTHORIZED)); } const auth = req.params; if (auth) { if (auth.token) return this.http.post("/api", auth.token); else if (auth.username) return this.http.post("/api", auth

Elliot, I've read what we have been discussing and think this is an ideal time to submit for NBD's Board Approval. Here is the premise. 1. The only change that I would propose is to accept the current documentation as sufficient to meet NBD's "get going" requirements. 2. I propose that we use the same type of document (with our employees right out the door on effective date) as we provide to the ENA and EGMS employees in the Real Time report requirements of the Houston Utility Contract. 3. Give this a try...let's discuss soon. ThanksQ: how to get lwip tcp netconn_data on poll I have the following function for decoding a lwip tcp_outgoing_pcb function. LWIP_NETCONN_DECL_SMARTFUNC(listener): ... listener.callback = listener_process_outgoing; listener.arg = dns_pcb; ... lwip_bind(dns_pcb, 0, 1); ... listener.socket = tcp_input(dns_pcb); listener.rx_buf = lwip_new_netbuf(); listener.packets_received = 0; listener.sent_callback = listener_process_sent_outgoing; listener.sent_arg = dns_pcb; ... listener.poll = LWIP_NETCONN_SEM_PER_PENDING_POLL; ... err_t res = tcp_output_nolwip(dns_pcb, listener); This function works as long as the tcp connection is active and I do not receive on an incoming tcp_incoming_pcb. However, on the incoming tcp_incoming_pcb, lwip calls the tcp_output_nolwip and calls the listener.poll function. I want to do the same thing, I don't want to call tcp_output_nolwip, lwip calls it from its netconn_data. When the poll is set, we are no longer connected so how can I get the netconn_data on the poll function?
