Roitt's Essential Immunology 13th Edition PDF/EPUB Download.AVB met with the media for the very last time on Tuesday morning to take questions and reflect on his tenure at the club. One of the subjects AVB touched on was the Premier League title race. When quizzed by Sky Sports News' Tom Adams, who ran the game, about the likelihood of Liverpool retaining the title in the coming weeks, AVB spoke about the state of the title race. "In my opinion, I don't think the title is in Liverpool's hands," AVB said. "We still think that it will be very difficult for Manchester City to win it and they already lost that game. So I think they are just about being in the mix. "Manchester United have just won at Blackpool and that is really good. It makes them difficult to play against. Arsenal against Liverpool was a derby and Arsenal lost. That changed the whole situation. "I think it is very, very difficult for any team to play these teams and I think it will be very exciting. But there is still a race on." AVB's final comments were littered with references to three key games in the season — the Liverpool clash, the FA Cup final against Wigan and, of course, the upcoming clash with Manchester City. AVB, though, was quick to add that he has no regrets. "I am very proud of the way we did the whole season," AVB said. "Sometimes, of course, it was difficult to win because we had to wait for the teams ahead of us to drop points. It was always tough but we stayed with the fight and I am very proud of that. "In football, you get many failures and defeats and it is very difficult to say you are not disappointed. We had many games where we were just so disappointed that we did not get the result we wanted. But I must say that in my seven years at Chelsea, I did not work with so many games where we knew we were top of
