Orb started the day 4-5 favorites in a field of 11, among the top four preps including future Derby runner-up Points to Prove. Florida Derby winner Double Power and third-place finisher Jack Jerald, who finished third in this race last year, were also in the field. The current field on Kentucky Derby morning is full of surprises, with a few short favorites in the early entries. William H. Hoople has a top ten horse in the field, but he did not appear to be a contender in the first $1.3M graded stakes of the year at 7-2. Hoople's Bourbon Prince is considered a Derby longshot following a disappointing debut at Gulfstream last month, and placed 12th in the Florida Derby behind eventual winner, Points to Prove. Gulfstream Park's Preakness Stakes is another Grade 1 event, but no graded 1st or 2nd place finisher is listed on the entry form. It's presumed that points and favorite Orb's relatively easy win will move him a bit farther up the list. A couple of horses that have recently finished in the top four in the Kentucky Derby are part of the initial Preakness field. Third in the Derby, Double Power won the Wood Memorial at 5-1 and third-place finisher Jack Jerald won the Blue Grass at 4-1, while Orb and fellow Preakness horse Points to Prove were both beaten by Double Power in the Florida Derby last month. Descriptiva De Rufino Moya Calderon 84 Information for Surname Week - An Introduction Every year in early July, the Registrar General holds a weekly Surname News update and, together with the Office of National Statistics, produces the annual Statistics of the Births, Deaths and Marriages report which is published shortly afterwards. Surname week aims to capture the spirit of the event. It gives people the chance to reflect on their surname and explore how the use of surnames has changed over the centuries and what we can now expect from the Surname Week and other sources of information. Surname Week 2019 will take place between July 5th and July 10th. Events Surname Week runs between July 5th and 10th. During this period we are holding a daily event that runs every weekday from 09:30 (GMT) to 15:00. We want to ensure that we capture as many people as possible during that short time period. Below we have provided links to each of the daily events. You can click on the link to find out more.

Surname Finder A very useful tool which will enable you to 'search for your surname'. The user needs to fill in their surname, region and selected data type and the results will provide links to the source if it exists. Sometimes it will just provide you with a new result.

This is useful for those who are not finding their surname in the sources we have provided. Meaningful Names

This is a particularly useful part of the website. It provides a daily meaning to a surname (including variations to that name). This is achieved by looking at the page rank of different websites for that name. This will highlight the webpages that have been the most useful in terms of the variation of the surname.

Genetics This is a quarterly journal that provides valuable information and reviews from the field of genetics. Looking for more information There are other places on the internet that will give you more information about your surname. It is very helpful to use these sites to aid your research. Some of them have been mentioned in Surname Week but there are many more. If you want to find out more about any of the websites mentioned, please contact the Office of National Statistics or the Registrar General's Office. In the
