I have an image that I'm animating in a canvas, I am able to move it around the screen but I want to insert an image at a certain location of the screen. I have tried CGContextDrawImage (image, rect, rect) but it does not work. I need to do it inside the drawRect function. - (void)drawRect:(CGRect)rect { CGContextRef context = UIGraphicsGetCurrentContext(); // Build a context first that is 8x8 on Retina. CGContextSetRGBFillColor(context, 1, 0, 0, 0.5); CGContextFillRect(context, CGRectMake(0, 0, 100, 100)); CGContextFloat width = self.frame.size.width; CGContextFloat height = self.frame.size.height; // Set the fill color to red CGContextSetRGBFillColor(context, 0, 1, 0, 0.5); // Set the stroke color to black CGContextSetRGBStrokeColor(context, 1, 0, 0, 0.5); // Create a path for drawing CGMutablePathRef path = CGPathCreateMutable(); CGContextAddRect(path, NULL, CGRectMake(5, 5, 50, 50)); // Stroke the path CGContextStrokePath(context); // Apply the path to the context CGContextAddPath(context, path); CGContextDrawPath(context, kCGPathFillStroke); // Cleanup CGContextRelease(path); } A: For your specific case the easiest way would be to create a UIView subclass and override the method drawRect. From there you can draw whatever you want on the view, in your case an image. New colorimetric polymerase chain reaction method 2edc1e01e8

What's New in the Lexkit?

Lexkit is an easy to use, handy generic XML-based dictionary content management system. This client-server dictionary makes editing easier for the lexicographer, who does not have to be aware of technical issues. Entry meta-information is used to provide advanced functionality, such as context-dependent tasks. Usage Lexkit makes it easier for the dictionary editors to include information in their dictionary. This information will be used to provide some advanced functionality, such as context-dependent tasks. + + + For Dictionaries created in LiveJobs, certain tasks, such as the lexicographic 'Purpose' and 'Example' contexts are provided by LiveJobs, and will override the desired setting within the /etc/XMLDictionary file. The following are the file locations: + + * /etc/XMLDictionary: The file containing the dictionary settings. See the /etc/XMLDictionary file for details on the settings. + + * /etc/XMLDictionary/livejobs: The file containing the livejob settings. + + * /etc/XMLDictionary/livejobs/<shortcode>: The file containing the settings for the particular context. + + Example: + + The following is an example dictionary: + + <?xml version="1.0"?> + <Dictionary> + <Entry1><Title>'Purpose' context</Title><Desc>'Purpose: [content]</Desc><EntryMeta>'Purpose: [content]</EntryMeta></Entry1> + <Entry2><Title>'Example' context</Title><Desc>'Example: [content]</Desc><EntryMeta>'Example: [content]</EntryMeta&
